

2013 AIM ANNUAL TEAMS

— ARKANSAS —

In 2012, the Amateur Trapshooting Association (ATA) established a program that pays special recognition to top AIM youth shooters based on participation in various types of AIM shoots and accuracy in marksmanship.

In the programs inaugural year two Arkansans earned national recognition on the 2012 AIM ALL-STAR Trapshooting Team: Luke Bussell of Smackover & Joshua Kaiser of Jonesboro

2013 AIM Annual Teams, including many AR youth shooters, were recently announced. See below. Congratulations to each of you on this outstanding achievement!

Arkansas AIM also wishes to recognize the AYSSP program, led by Chuck Woodson of the AR Game & Fish Commission, for establishing an outstanding foundation from which many of these shooters firmly established roots in trapshooting. Similarly, if not for the extensive network of volunteer coaches, parents, and their supportive families, these successes would not likely be possible.
